“ Sylvia had a beautiful heart, and always had a smile. I will always remember, as teenagers, in the summers my sister Barbara and I use stay next door by her brother and my aunt and we were always be by Sylvia's house. We would walk at night to Canal St. to get ice cream. She would tell us all kinds of stories on the way. She would tell me what to do to gain weight because I could not hit 100 pounds(back then). One night she just laughed and said I'll show you how to gain pounds. Eat a lot after 9:00pm and go to sleep. I spent stayed by her house that night and later after eating too much, I got so sick . It could not stay down. After helping me. she just laughed and said we won't do that again. We had so much fun with her. She will be very much missed by all of us. My prayers are wishing God's Blessing's for her five daughters and all the grands and great grands.
