“ We saw Allen many times throughout the years, but never enough. He was (is) a giant of a musician and person. The real gentleman and spokesperson for NOLA and the musical world.

“ I had the honor of having met this humble New Orleans native, of which I share the same background, in New York at The Joseph Papp Theatre on Astor Place back in the late 1990's. I sat in the very first row! Standing there in line, after his performance, with a few other fans, I finally got my turn to say hello. After informing Mr. Toussaint that I was original member of the Tremé Community/6th Warder, he said, "You look like 'one of Us' " meaning, there was something about me that resonated NEW ORLEANS! I was SO touched, not merely by his soft hands/shake and smile, but by his humility and genuineness. I still have one of the gifts he gave out that evening to his audience ~ a "2nd Line handkerchief" printed with musical notes that included his signature; a gift I shall always cherish and will now frame.

“ Sir Allen,

You touched hearts around the world, and collaborated with my father Benny Spellman, during the hayday, of New Orleans R&B, the sixties! Your music and mastery will live on forever!

Blessings to Reggie and the Toussaint family.

Love you,

*Judy Spellman,
The daughter of the late Benny Spellman,*

“ Some years back Mr. Toussaint played a performance on Austin City Limits. He closed with a rendition of Southern nights, I have never heard, it was magnificent, only a genius could compose and perform. New Orleans lost a musical genius, as well as a outstanding song writer and composer. The Toussaint family has lost there matriarch. Mr. Toussaint will be remembered in so many ways, as he touched all of us during his career, with all of his funky(music made for New Orleans and shared with the world) New Orleans music. The rhythm, of the sounds was absolutely New Orleans, all thanks to Allan Toussaint. All of the local musicians, who have in many cases grew up to the Toussaint style of music, are all blessed to have done so. Mr. Toussaint will forever be in the hearts of all who have had the good fortune of hearing his music, as sung by so many talented local musicians. I am sure his ever present smile is etched in all of our memories, Thanks to the Toussaint family for sharing this gentleman with us all. God bless. Never loose sight of the genius of the man.

“ To the Toussaint family: My husband and I had the pleasure of seeing Allen perform many times, both in and out of New Orleans. As avid music lovers, we see many, many performers, but few are as elegant, charming and exceedingly talented as Allen was. We had the good fortune of seeing him at Joe's Pub in NYC - one of our favorite shows of all time - and meeting him afterwards outside. He was so gracious and kind to us. We will miss him. The world will miss him. His music and our memories will be with us always!

“ To Mr. Toussaint 's family, please accept my deepest sympathy for your loss. I find it hard to believe that we will never see him perform his wonderful music again. He gave so much joy through his music. Mr. Toussaint, you will be missed by everyone who knew you. Music in New Orleans just won't be the same. Bless you.

“ I had seen Allen many times perform and he was great, but what really blew me away is when I saw him just standing on the food court grass just hanging out waiting to meet and talk to people. I had just seen him with Elvis Costello and was amazed at the horn arrangements that he did for all of Elvis's songs, so I went over to ask him how long it took him and we talked for about 5 minutes. A truly great and humble man he will be greatly missed.

“ I had the good fortune to meet and occasionally get to know a majority of my musical heroes, and Allen was surely one of the most significant. But more importantly, as I got to know him over many encounters the past 30 years, I learned that his humility, integrity and grace were every bit the equal of his artistic talent. His music -- and the joy it gave to millions-- was an exponent of his humanity, his heart.

He was the truest gentleman I ever met in life, let alone the music industry. Whether I was watching him onstage or catching a brief conversation with him, I felt a joy that few other human beings have radiated to me in that fashion.

I am brokenhearted that he has passed and the only solace I can take right now is that he helped define and capture the soul of one of the world's greatest cities, and that his spirit will remain in eternal here on Earth through his music as it surely will in Heaven.

I really loved and admired Allen.

My deepest, deepest sympathies to his family, I know you must be a lovely group. I hope that I'll have the chance to meet some of you one day, too.

“ My wife and I are lovers of New Orleans and music from New Orleans. We've had the privilege (with many) to attend Mr. Toussaint's show at the Jazz fest twice (2012 & 2013). We already knew his music for long but that was such a joy to see him playing and to listen once again to his wonderful songs. We are planning to come to NOLA for the next jazzfest but it definitely won't be the same. All our sympathy goes to the family of Mr. Toussaint.

“ Not everyone knew that Allen was not only a Jazz fan but constantly studied and practiced Jazz piano. I always enjoyed our "Jazz piano" talks at the Windsor Court Hotel, where I played for more than 15 years. Allen was always supportive and complimentary and he also was very supportive of our work at NOCCA, where his grandson Herman LeBeaux Jr. graduated in 2015.

“ I last saw Mr. Toussaint while disembarking from the Legendary Rhythm and Blues Cruise in Oct. 31. It was one of the joys of my life to see him interviewed eight Irma Thomas during the cruise. We saw his final show in Friday night Oct. 30. He was so vibrant. It's hard to imagine that he's now in another place. Though I've seen him many times, this last performance will remain with me for the rest of my life. Thank you for the memories and the music, Mr. T. 💜💚💛

“ To the family and friends,
It is very hard to depart from a love one, forever
You can have the assurance that Allen was respected around the world
for his musical talent and his gentle spirit.
I remember Allen often on our porch with my brother SAMMY BERFECT
playing the old time piano. They brought the neighbors out to their porches
to listen to REAL MUSIC.
Allen had developed a group of followers at the Dakota Jazz spot ,
in Minneapolis, MN
What a time when Sammy, Marva Wright and Allen greet each other in Heaven!!

“ Allen Toussaint was a giant in the Music Business ,to be sure, but he was also a giant in the Human business. He assisted, encouraged, mentored with love, everyone who was lucky enough to cross his path. His was a giving soul, which was coupled with a heart full of joy. His songs were a testimony to his love for his fellow human beings, his belief in them, and an unwavering faith in the good in people. We all learned so much from you.... and your music will keep you with us, always.

“ I saw Allen at the 2014 Jazz Fest, 29 years after I had seen him at the 1985 version and was amazed at how much he looked the same. He was a complete musician; songwriter, producer, pianist, singer, he could have been a success in any one of those categories. The good Lord is not democratic, he gives more to some than others and Allen got way more than the rest of us.
Thanks for the great music
