

Audrey Lynae Hart

December 2, 2023

Audrey Lynae Hart was born in Klamath Falls, OR on the 28th of October, 1998. She was the first born to parents Joseph Hart and Alyssa Hoecherl, and was a joy to her entire family. Following the birth of two younger brothers, the family relocated to Donaldsonville, LA where Audrey's kind heart and love for others grew. During her teenage years, Audrey attended Donaldsonville High School before moving to New Orleans, LA where she attended Joseph S. Clark Preparatory High School. It was here that she began exploring herself, and found a love for all things art and music. After acquiring her GED elsewhere, Audrey sought out to complete an apprenticeship and obtain licensing to become a professional tattoo artist. Through her art, she made many friends and left lasting impressions on people from all over the world. Audrey was also an organ donor by choice; her last gift saving the lives of four different people. Another example of Audrey's love for others, even the ones she didn't know. Audrey gave birth to a baby girl in July of 2017 whose love absolutely consumed her. Audrey entered into eternal rest on the 2nd of December, 2023 at the age of 25, at University Medical Center in New Orleans, LA. She leaves behind her mother, Alyssa Hoecherl of New Orleans, LA; her father, Joseph Hart of Donaldsonville, LA; brothers, Jakob Hart of New Orleans, LA, Harley Hart of Harrisburg, MO, and Cameron Price of New Orleans; sisters April Cox of Medford, OR, Shalexi Marable of Lafayette, LA, and Stephanie Beneditto of Napoleonville, LA. In heaven, Audrey joins her late paternal grandmother Patricia (Pat) Hart of Klamath Falls, OR, and her late paternal grandfather Harley Hart of Klamath Falls, OR. Finally, and most beautifully, Audrey is survived by her daughter, Marley Jae Hart of New Orleans, LA.
