“ From an old neighbor from down the block on Senate Street, my deepest condolences goes out to the Rondeno family for your loss. It has been a very long time since I use to jump off the St. Bernard to Senate bus at the end of the line on my way home from my summer job. Walking past you all cooling out on your porch in those hot summer evenings, I remember exchanging greetings and a wave with members of your beautiful family. That was a reminder for me that I had almost made it back home.

This is a very different day and time from back then to right now, but memories of that tightly knit family sitting on that porch will, God willing, linger on.
