“ My condolences to the Brown family at this hour of bereavement. As you are one of the families on Metropolitan Street that I feel closest to. When I was a child people thought I was Cynthia,s and Barbara's sister. Rev. Brown would take us by his sister on the 4th of July, I travel with the Brown family to Gramercy, San Francisco, and we were just that close. She was the little sister I never had. I know Cynthia is resting in the arms of Jesus, because, “He said come unto yo me and I will give you rest. And she did that. She was a Christian women true till the end. Rest on Cynthia.
