“ A gentleman who expressed love for his family and so many others. In today's world, we need more "Brimmers" (mentors). Children adored him and respected him to the highest. I recalled the close relationship he shared with my oldest brother, Wilmer Elmore, III because they started out from Booker T. Washington on to Grambling and beyond.

It was so special when my brother said he, Brimmer and 2 other close friends of theirs would get together (even recently) and have lunch, sitting around talking about the good times they shared over the many years.

50 years says a whole lot. Brimmer has a beautiful wife and family who loved him. He also had enough love to share with others in a positive way without hesitation. (Mind you, we all have some flaws, none of us are perfect but sometimes the positive out ways anything else}. But when you come across someone you have known for a long time who took pride in what he set out to do, (awesome job), it's nothing but the grace of God who instill that gift in him, a life of an immeasurable personality.

His roll here has come to an end and we all know that he has earned his wings. When God has His hands in something, "it's well done". He makes not mistakes. The other day, God spoke to Brimmer and said your labor on earth has ended, come on up because the musicians need "one of the best directors" to lead the band.

To Mrs. Brimmer, hold on to God's unchanging hand. Just concentrate on the memories and know that his love was with you and his family.

A proud gentleman with his white derby (beautiful picture) has moved on to Glory!!! His work here is done so take your rest!!!
