“ It was disappointing to read that Fellman died at a relatively young age. He lived across the street from me when we both lived in the 1600 block of Alvar Street. I remember the family and had an opportunity to visit with some of them after they moved to another location. Fellman always gave me rides in the Schwegmann truck whenever he saw me walking. I remember my mother telling me I should behave like Fellman and his cousin Junior. They served as the model boys for the neighborhood. I am positive the joy and happiness he brought to all who knew him greatly exceeds the sorrow and sadness of his death.
