“ To the Family of Mr. Harry Jones, please accept our deepest condolences for your loss. My husband Dennis and I first met "Mr. Harry" on a visit to New Orleans during the 2000 Coca-Cola Essence Music Festival. Upon entering this beautiful gallery we were greeted by Mr. Harry. The gallery, although well designed and appointed was not stuffy or ostentatious like most artsy settings; rather, we felt as if we had met an old friend and it was ok to ask questions if you didn't quite understand something. He welcomed us warmly and talked with us about the artists and the gallery.

Mr. Harry was a refined and dignified man who reminded us all that the beauty in art should be accessible to both common and great people. Both artists and lovers of art should have and maintain an interchange of support. We are grateful for his valuble contributions to the art world and for the fine example he set as a caretaker of the art spirit. He will be greatly missed-

It is to God we belong and to Him we return. As saddened as I am about the news of this transition, I know I am not alone in feeling enriched by the opportunity to know this kind, intelligent, sincere man, whose contributions to both personal and professional communities left indelible impressions on all who knew him. May the kind and genuine spirit of Harry and the meaningful memories shared by family and friends be a source of inspiration of a life well lived, with character, sincerity and kindness. And may the presence of his love for his family continue to keep his spirit close to Stella, his children and grandchildren, all of whom he often spoke of with such pride, respect and love. Peace and Love, Halima Taha

“ I'm very saddened to have learned the news of Harry's transition.

I will remember him as very warm and personal human being, who was dedicated to the arts community, his friends & his family. And how proud he was of the art gallery, his wife & children. He had every reason to be.

When I first met Harry, it was at Stella Jones Gallery & I felt as if I'd known him for quite some time.

Harry, not only did you help to make the world of art prosper just a little more, but your dedication to the Negro College Fund helped young African Americans obtain a college education. That legacy will live on forever.

Harry, may you Rest In Peace.

Your Friend,

Alvin Alexander

“ I am so sorry to hear about the transition of Harry Wade Jones. I remember you both well and the care and time you spent with each customer.

I purchased the print of "The Blues Player" by Elizabeth Catlett, that was done in 1995/7 of 23. I purchased it the year you were having her exhibit and celebrating her birthday.

I thank you both for having such a wonderful gallery and I hope you will always do well.

Mr. Harry and Dr. Stella Jones have been such a positive influence on not only myself and my wifes lives, but the entire Monroe family. The entire Monroe family thanks God for having kniown and loved Harry. He will be missed and cherished. He truly is a beautiful soul, and henceforth, all Monroe generations will forever call Mr. Harry Wade Jones Blessed. Our prayers, thoughts, love, and hearts will always be with you.
