“ So sorry for your loss. I am looking for a James McGee, that would have been traveling through Arizona, about 30 years ago. My family had a car accident, and a James McGee stopped and helped. He went above and beyond. My family thought of him as an angel. We do know that he was a pastor, or very well educated in spiritual things. If this is your father or husband, we want to thank you so much!

His ability to speak scripture and Biblical things, was so helpful to my family. Marilyn Smith, Ohio

“ When I was nine or ten years old, my parents thought I should join the church. So, one Sunday, at the time when Uncle James Earl would ask who was ready to join, my father pulled me and my sister Penny from our seats and pushed us up to the altar. He looked down at me and asked, "Are you ready to become a member of the church?" I looked back and said, "No." He was stunned. The whole church was stunned. My father was embarrassed and my mother could not stop laughing. Without a worry, he simply said, "Well, go sit back down." When he posed the same question to my sister, she said "Yes." I don't really know what Uncle James Earl ever thought of that, he didn't share his opinions on it. But I appreciated that he didn't get angry, he didn't tease me; he just let it go. Maybe it takes a minister to know that you shouldn't force a person to participate in a religion unless that person understands the responsibility involved. I always appreciated that about him.

I visited him in the hospital about a week before he died. I don't think he knew who I was but I took his hand and he held on tight for as long as he held it. He was always a strong person.

All my love,

Kevin Ann

“ We have loving memories of Rev. "James Earl"..coming to our parents home, he referred to their uncle, Rev. Lowe as "Brother" (daddy's family nickname), and our Mom, Carzella, was one of his favorites, along with all 12 of us little Lowe children.. We'd run to the porch and meet Rev. James Earl and our Cousin Bobbie & the kids at their car when they drove up for a visit and we never wanted them to leave!!! Both he and cousin Bobbie so carry special to us all! Sometimes we'd all go up to Papa and Mo's and eat pound cake and Mo's homemade ice cream). He is home now with the Lord, and most likely preaching one of those soul stirring unforgettable sermons. In Loving Memory, Lynda and all the Lowe cousins in Mississippi.
