“ I first met Louie when I became an ADA in 1974. I used to go watch him try cases because he was absolutely wonderful in court. Juries loved him. We later served together again in the US Attorney’s office and again he was the best. I appeared before him many times when he became a Magistrate. He was always fair and evenhanded. I greatly admired him and always will. He is sadly missed. Pauline Hardin

“ I first met Magistrate Moore as a law clerk in the Orleans Parish District Attorney's Office. He was an Assistant district attorney and, I believe, the only African American assistant District Attorney. I watched as he skillfully defeated one of the best Criminal Defense Attorneys in the city with a brilliant closing argument—his competence immediately silenced the racist and negative comments from fellow district attorneys. I have tried to incorporate his method as a trial lawyer for over 50 years. He was always willing to share his thoughts and advice. He is a real treasure and will be deeply missed.

“ An early friend, who will be remembered as a loving family man, who loved his wife and children and who was grounded in his religion. Professionally, the Judge was well thought of. My regret is that we did not keep up with one another over the years, but I will always enjoy fond memories.
