“ I can remember the day we started DCFS. Just talked to her a couple of months. Always a caring understanding person who was dedicated to the social work profession. I am still in shock because when I spoke to her she told me she was doing o.k. Still hard for me to process. May she rest in peace.....gone but never forgotten.

“ Timeka, Stephanie, leashia, Catilin, I am sorry to hear of your mom's passing, she was a great woman that really loved her family. I enjoyed seeing you all come in together and get your hair done, looking out for one another because that really showed how strong of a family y'all where. I know that it may hurt know, but I encourage you with these words, the Lord is there to bring comfort like no one else can (He is your peace John 14:27), I won't say don't cry because out of those tears come great healing, but they will come a time where you will look back and smile remembering the happiest times (Psalm 126:5). I say to you and your family to trust in the Lord, for surely He will help you make it through. Be there for your dad comfort one another and stay united as a family.
