“ The family of Hal and Jo Lesser send condolences and good thoughts to the family of Mr. Green. A fellow barber in New Orleans, my father spent much of his time with Mr. Green, and my mother lived in a home (no longer there) directly behind Mr. Green's shop on Forshey. Since moving to California, the communication grew scarce. Yet, when able to return to New Orleans to visit, a stop by the shop was always planned and always welcomed.

My wife and I were fortunate to visit this past spring and were so blessed to have one more opened armed visit with Mr Green. We will miss him, but will enjoy our memories and time shared with him.

“ Rev. Green was a good man. He helped anyone in any way he could. I never heard anyone say a bad or negative thing about him. He must have also been a great father because his son Sam always spoke of him well; with respect and admiration. He was a great friend to the Nazareth Baptist Church, helping us during some difficult times. He will certainly be missed by both his loved ones and those of us throughout Hollygrove, who knew and appreciated his welcoming smile and fatherly demeanor. May he rest in peace, enjoying the glory of being in the presence of the Lord, whom he served. My prayers are with Sam, my friend, and the rest of the Green family, during your time of great loss. God is with you.

“ Sam Green was larger than life. I met him while helping Zara move when she lived in Dallas. The second I laid eyes on him I felt like I already knew him; partly because Z always talked about him and the other part was who he was. He instantly felt like family and forever took a place in my heart.
