January 12, 2022

Legendary New Orleans DJ and entertainer Steven Ray Brown's love of life and legacy will not end with his passing. Steven passed away on January 12, 2022 at the age of 57 after a courageous battle with cancer, surrounded by loved ones who will honor his legacy and valor by living their lives to the fullest just as he did.

Steven was born on October 14, 1964 to Ms. Marie Brown and the late Willie Brown in New Orleans Louisiana. During elementary age Steve's mother moved him and his two younger brothers to Oakland California where he developed a love for sports and music. He played junior varsity and varsity basketball at McClymonds High school where he obtained his diploma in 1982, setting an example for his brothers after their father's passing.

At the age of 22 Steven accepted the Lord as his Savior in Christ and set to embark on his life journey as a young man. In 1995 he moved back to New Orleans where he would hone in on his love for music and began to build his empire as a renowned local DJ. He went by the name "DJ Ice Baby", and he played and MC'd many venues and events in New Orleans. His remarkable talent and big personality will be missed.

The simplest pleasures in life brought great joy to Steven. He loved spending time with his family and friends. Steven could always be found watching and cheering on the Saints or 49ers during a football game, as well as frequenting the local bar or casino where he was celebrated by those who knew him. He had an uncanny ability to find happiness in his daily activities.
