“ My wife and I met Ms. Sylvia in March of 2015. We work with the university ministry at First Baptist Church Lubbock, Tx. Our ministry took a mission trip to New Orleans that spring break. Our work site was deconstructing a house damaged by Hurricane Katrina for a church that is turning the building into a facility for their church ministry. We led a group of 26 college students on the site. Ms. Sylvia came over to greet us that first morning at the site, as it was across the street from her house. She welcomed us with a smile, laughter, and love. She came over to us every morning for 5 days and gave us an encouraging word for the day. Some of us got to pray with her for her health. One of our students even mowed her back yard. She was such a blessing to us that week and she said we were all a blessing to her. I exchanged phone numbers with her and my wife and I have been in contact with her frequently from that week until her passing. We took a group picture with her that week with all us adults and all 26 students. She told me that she would look at the picture and pray for all us and the students often. She taught me a lot about faith, strength, and courage. She was such a joyful person. We are sad at her passing but rejoice that she is with Jesus now. We all and the students have been praying for her family and send our sincerest condolences. We were all proud to call Sylvia Saul our friend.
