“ Although we are no longer able to see those that we love, the memory of special times that we shared with them will forever live in our hearts. I am sure that you will forever cherish each precious moment that you shared with Tyrone and that his wonderful legacy of love, joy and happiness will stand as a testimony to the kind of life that he lived. How good to know that one day all suffering, pain and death will be gone forever. Rev21:3-4 We will have the chance to see our dead loved ones again! Our loving heavenly father has promised that the time will come when we will see our dead loved ones by means of the resurrection made possible by Jesus Christ. John5:28-29 What a wonderful time that will be! Do not let your hearts be troubled. Believe in the promises of God and find inner peace! Once again I am truly sorry for your loss!

“ Tyrone was affectionately known as "T" on the campus of Tulane University. It was a joy to have known such a positive force. He was always pleasant and always spoke kindly of everyone. He is gone but never forgotten. RIP, "T"

May the family find comfort in knowing that he is resting in the arms of the Master!
